(and maybe have a biscuit or two!)
Here at Kidney Research UK, we love to see people connect with others, whilst raising vital funds for our work.

Coffee mornings have always been a brilliant way to fundraise and there are lots of things you can do to make your event an instant hit.

Don’t have a bland coffee morning!
Here are some ideas to stir things up a bit:

• A memorable location
• Quirky coffee – try those flavours you’d normally leave on the shelf
• A bake off challenge; sweet or savoury

• Man (or woman) v Cake – who will win?
• After dark – it’s morning after midnight! Espresso Martinis and Black Russians at the ready.

How do you make money?
An easy way to raise money from your event is to charge entry or sell tickets.

There are lots of other little ways to raise money and there’s nothing to say you can’t get inventive!
Ask your guests to guess how many coffee beans are in a jar, hold a baking competition where people pay to cast a vote or get a local hotel to donate afternoon tea for two and raffle it off. Make sure you capture the action and share online.

Remember to mention #TEAMKIDNEY

What better way to do that than surrounded by people you care about, with a coffee or a cuppa. Kick back, relax and enjoy some Blends with Friends!
